Create a Text Conversation

Create a text conversation between two characters from the book you read for Summer Reading below. The conversation should reveal a key event in the book's plot and reflect each character's personality and emotion at that point in the story. You can add additional text bubbles on the back if you need more space.

The form contains two columns of speech bubbles. The left column has three bubbles, and the right column has three bubbles. Each bubble is a rounded rectangle with a tail pointing to the right (for the left column) or left (for the right column). The entire form is enclosed in a thick black border that mimics a smartphone frame with a notch at the top and a home button at the bottom.
